"Walking with a friend in the dark is better than walking alone in the light." This is a famous quote by Helen Keller. Keller is famous for being blind and deaf and writing best selling books.

Keller was born in Tusculumbia, Alabama on June 27, 1880. Keller died on June 1, 1968, in Arcan Ridge, in Eastern Connecticut.

There are many wonderful facts about Helen Keller. Did you know that Keller believed her life started at the age of 7?

Keller also had no formal education until she was 7.

Before Keller got sick, she spoke her first word at 6 months old. Keller had a half sister,

154
Fannie Keller, two half brothers, James Keller, and William Keller, and a full sister, Mildred Keller, and a full brother, Phillip Keller.

Keller started walking at one year old. Keller also lost her sight and hearing at just 19 months old. Keller had a bad temper as a kid. This caused her to get mad easily. Keller got called an "unruly child." When Annie Sullivan arrived, they stayed in the cottage next door.

These are some facts about Helen Keller.

Helen Keller is famous for being blind and deaf, and writing best selling books. Keller was also famous for being the first blind and deaf person to earn a college degree. Keller got a degree at Radcliffe, which is Harvard's sister. These are some reasons

Helen Keller is famous.

There are many more interesting facts about Helen Keller. Did you know that Keller was nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize in 1953? Keller began working for the American Foundation for the Blind in 1924. Keller was an author and speaker all over the WORLD!! Even after death, Keller remains influential and respected. These are some more interesting facts about Helen Keller.

Helen Keller is famous for being blind and deaf, and writing best selling books, like... "The Story of my life", "The World I Live In", "Midstream", "Three Days to See", Keller made more books I just can't name them. I picked Helen Keller because Keller proved that people can do anything they wish, even if they are handicapped. Like Keller once "While they were saying among themselves it can not be done, it was done"
