"Success is no accident. It is hard work, perseverance, and love of what you are doing." This is a qoute from Pelè. He was a famous Soccer player and he won 3 world cups for Brazil. Pelè was born in 1940 in Tres Coracoes Brazil. He died on 12-29-2023 in Sao Paulo Brazil.

There are many interesting facts about Pelè. Pelè is just his nickname his real name is Edison Arantes do Nascimento. He was named after Thomas Edison. Pelè did not like the nickname Pelè he got Suspened for throwing a chair at a Student who called him Pelè.

Pelè was 9 when he got his nickname. He did not like School he talked too much. The punishments were to get your mouth stuffed with paper or kneel down one hard beans!!! Pele did not like homework he used to sneak out of the house to play with his friends or go swimming. Pele's family was poor so they couldn't buy a soccer ball so the ball was a bunch of clothes tied up with string and the goalpost was a pair of old shoes. His dad was also a soccer player his name was Dondinho he loved showing Pelè and his friends some skills. When Dondinho got a knee injury the family struggled to have enough to eat. These were some interesting facts about Pelè.

Pelè was most famous for becoming a pro Soccer player. He was 15 when he started playing for Santos FC in Brazil. He thought He would fail and let his team down. Pelè won 3 world cups for Brazil. He played in two teams Santos FC and New York cosmos.

When Pelè was growing up there was a lot of technology. In 1953 Sony introduces the first pocket sized transistor radio. In 1956 the first computer disk used and the hovercraft invented. In 1969 Apollo 11 lands on the moon. In 1971 the first E-mail is sent.

There are many more interesting facts about Pelè. When Pelè got his 1.000th goal his jersey number got changed to 1,000. Pelè served in the army when he was 18 for 1 year. He still played soccer. He was player of the century in 1900.

Pele was famous for being the best soccer. He won 3 world cups for Brazil. I picked Pelè because I want to be a soccer player when I grow up. I also want to win player of the century. "Evrything is practice!!
