

WAX MUSEUM REFLECTION

JoJo

I LOVED THE WAX MUSEUM. I portrayed Walt Disney. It was so fun. I could do it all the time. I wish we could do it in every grade. But the thing that got boring was saying my speech over and over and over in till it was over. But I still loved it. One person from the Herald Palladium took a picture of me and I thought that was COOL. .Some people walked by but most of the people stopped by and listened to me and I was happy. I got my button pushed like 1000 times. My parents pressed my button like 9 times but I didn't care at all. A lot of people gave me a thumbs up and I liked that. Someone even gave me a fist bump and I loved that. A lot of people said " MICKEY MOUSE" when they came to push my button. Emma and Mia sat next to me. Mia was Dr.Seuss. Emma was Amelia Earhart. Hannah was Helen Keller and she had a "34 inches by "42 inches. After the Wax Museum we watched MICHIGAN STATE VS PURDUE. My quote is "If you can dream it,you can do it". I love that quote. I love Walt Disney because he is so creative like me. We use to go to DisneyWorld all the time when I was little. I LOVE WAX MUSEUM!!!

"Life is a challenge, but that is the best part".That is a famous quote by Venus Williams. My speech was "Hi my name is Venus Williams. I'm most famous for being one of the first African American woman to play tennis. Did you know I have won four Olympic gold medals so has my sister. Well bye now I have to go back to playing tennis."It was a lot of work but I loved it! Ps. I hope you like it.

Today we had our wax museum. I was Helen Keller. It was so much fun! Like 95 people pressed my button. A photographer from the Herald Palladium was there and took pictures of me. So much fun! My parents pushed my button like 9 times. My mom took my picture like 35 times!! Some kid slid into my paper and knocked over my trifold ! And it landed on my head! I still had to say my speech without getting mad at him. I sat next to Paislee as Amelia Earhart and Charlie as Orville Wright. My trifold was "34 inches by "42 inches! A group of boys came over and pushed my button like 100 times and didn't let me say my speech. A lot of people said "Oh Helen Keller, let's hear you" There was another Helen Keller. Brynn Harris was the other Helen Keller. She had a trifold too. I LOVED THE WAX MUSEUM!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Today was the wax museum! It was so much fun and I was Pocahontas. My brother pushed my button 2 times and the second time he slid and then pushed my button. I do not know how many times people pushed it but I think they at least pushed it at least 60 times today. It was only an hour but felt so long. I wish I could do it again but I know I can not. I was so tired at the end of it. But it was still fun. I would do it again. It is going to be so cool when my brother does it in 3rd grade too. I told him that he would make a great Neil Armstrong in 3rd grade and we had one in my wax museum. I was next to Quinn Fix which was Benjamin Franklin. Quinn was great at being Benjamin Franklin in the wax museum today. I was also next to Josh Foster which was Jesus Christ he was great. I again had so much fun at the wax museum. I think some people could not hear me. But I think they still liked it. Grandma Jo came and only pressed my button and did it 2s but it was fun even though I was so tired and wanted water. My mom was there and my grandma was there. They pressed my button a lot so I just kept talking. And there is my wax museum reflection.

Today we had our wax Williams. It was so much fun! There were so many people there. I stood right next to Viviana who portrayed Serena Williams. This boy kept pushing my button 100 times. He was either in first or second grade. He stayed and listened to my speech. A photographer from the Herald Palladium was there and took a lot of pictures, but not of me. However, I did have a lot of people taking my pictures including my parents. The wax museum was soooooo much fun. I never wanted it to end. I loved the wax museum! Every time a little kid came to my button and it ended they would put their thumbs up and it was so cute! At the beginning I was nervous and excited at the same time it turned out to be good! All of my friends did great!
